The Chilling Prospect

AS NOTED HERE THE OTHER day, the increased taxes on British Columbia home owners, under Mr. Bennett's new assessment formula, will be only part of a gen-eral increase in Canadian taxes during the next few years. Figures to support this conclusion are now available from the authoritative, non-partisan Canadian Tax Foundation as reported in The Financial Post. They make grin reading.

The expenditures of Canada's federal, provincial and municipal governments rose by 24 per cent in the five years from 1956 to 1960. If they continue to advance at their present pace, the increase in total spending between 1960 and 1965 will be at least 26 per cent, The Post says, and more likely 35 per

Thus total outlays could well rise from the figure of $11.1 billion in 1960 to $14 or $15 billion by 1965, taking as much as 36 per cent of our Gross National Product as against today's slice of 31 per cent.

We are close to, and will soon pass the point where a third of every dollar produced in Canada will go to the state. Every citizen can usefully apply that simple fact to his own private income. Every worker can estimate how many days a week he works for the government.

Of course, the nation could continue to increase its spending at the present rate without any tax increases if the Gross National Product grew fast enough. For then existing tax rates could provide plenty of money for the federal, provincial and municipal governments. out of a growing total income, But this cannot happen.

As The Financial Post says, "for the tax burden to stay at its present level, government spending on this scale will require an annual increase in the Gross National Product of 5 to 7 per cent-allowing for (federal government) deficits like those of the past few years. For budgets to be balanced, the annual leap in the Gross National Product would have to be 7-9 per cent."

Is there any chance of our annual description of the control of the con nual output of wealth increasing at such a rate? No chance at all, unless we increase it fictitiously by inflating the currency, as we have started to do already on an alarm-slowed down to an average of 3.2 per cent in the last five years. In 1960, though the figures are not complete yet, it appears to have fallen even below that five-year average. And a considerable part of the increase, in recent years, has not represented an increase in physical production, in actual wealth, but only price increases.

"The mathematical implications of this mathematical exercise, prepared by the Canadian Tax Foundation are," says The Post, "quite chilling. There will have to be higher taxes or bigger deficits or a combination of higher taxes and bigger deficits.' We can rule out bigger deficits, or even a continuation of present deficits, unless we wish to invite financial chaos and ruinous inflation. Mr. Fleming, the author of deficits in every year of his administration and the record deficit of the current year, knows their danquite well, though he has not yet done anything to cure it.

In 1960 he guaranteed a balanced budget which, he said, was the result of long planning in adbut his theoretical surplus turned into another huge deficit. Nevertheless, as he said in that erring budget speech, at some point the government must collect much money as it spends and a little more to begin paying off some of the swollen national debt.

If deficits on the existing scale are intolerable, as Mr. Fleming evidently agrees, two courses are open to him or to his successor. Expenditures can be held down or taxes can be pushed up.

Is there any chance of arresting the annual rise in the national budget? This is quite inconceivable as the next budget—before or after an election—undoubtedly will demon-strate. That leaves the single alter-native of raising federal taxes, as soon as the politicians have waffled safely through the election.

Indeed, as The Post remarks, the tax increase has begun already. Three provinces are planning immediate increase in corporation taxes, two will increase income taxes and many, like British Columbia, have been raising various local taxes while municipal taxes also are generally rising. All this money comes out of the same taxpayer's pocket but he has yet to hear the worst. In due time he will hear it if he continues to insist that his governments must spend more every year.

What! We're Not Perfect?

CCRA SPEECHES

I THINK it's safe to say that Victorians city. For a good many years-although, of course, they didn't read such litera-ture—Victorians lived in a sort of tourist folder fog. They really believed all that stuff about green jewel by a silver sea, and matchless beauty, and old English charm. Shucks, even Rudyard Kipling agreed, didn't he, and you aren't going to argue with HIM, are you?

So we went on believing it all and felt that the praises of our city were no more than simple justice, even if we sang most of them ourselves. When any outsider chimed in with a kind word we warmed to him immediately, mostly because he had such good taste. And if any foreigner said anything derogatory regarding the town, we hated him, since obviously he was a rude fellow of no perception.

An Idea Is Born

But then, slowly, like a worm burrowing towards the apple core, a new thought began to ease its way into our minds. There was a word of criticism here and there, not from ignorant visi-tors but from local observers. Here and there a statistic popped up to add a little weight to somebody's suggestion that what we had was something less than perfection.

There were tentative stirrings in the direction of rectifying some flaws in jewel. Even when these efforts the public is also being asked to show in practical terms its faith in were, of course, scorned and defeated, there remained in some minds a tiny questioning and doubt. an earnest desire for this approach

Facing the Facts

Victorians began to muli over the facts, even though reluctantly. Retail business moving out to the suburbs because of traffic and parking problems; pedestrian malls upod (so there must be a reason for them), but turned down (why?); people saying the governmental set-up of a city and three munici palities, has been outgrown and ought to be brought up to date; a growing realization among those who look around that the downtown area does look pretty shabby even though we hadn't noticed it till now; the experts'

Josef Stalin, who is Mao Tse-Tung's model, also condemned his people to long years of misery for the sake of forced industrialization; but in the Rusian case, the misery at least produced the desired results. The One Hope for Survival

Government proponents of the shel-ter scheme, aware of its inadequacy, are nevertheless politically obliged to defend it. Someimes they are moved to ill-considered overstatement. Consider this assertion by Mr. Douglas Harkness (Weekend Magazine, Jan. 13): "There are good reasons for believing, however, that those who have taken measures to ensure their survival through the most difficult period will be able to maintain life, resist attack and in due course re-build the nation and recreate its social and economic organization."
"... those who have taken measures to ensure their survival. . . Notice that it is not "some of those,"

or even "a good part of those,

or even "a good part of those," but simply "those who have taken measures to ensure survival..."

What kind of measures? A rocket to Marg? How effective are shelters against chemical warfare? And what about those delectable biological savories nurturing so patiently in their vats? How can anyone ensure anything in a war in this technological age? This letter is not intended to be primarily a contribution to the debate on shelters. Rather "shelter-mindedness" is being exploited to emphasize the vital need for basic solutions. Survival is ensured only by ensuring the peace. To ensure the peace we need to know how. To this end our best hope lies in a crash program for peace research, It might just give us the answers. D. ADAMS.

As a result of uch thoughtiessness, many a cribit has these before he or she could be gotten to a big city someone could remove a button or a safety pin from the gullet or the lungs.

Parents must be particularly careful to rush the child to an expert when a dried bean has gotten into the windpipe, because, after 24 hours, it tends to swell with mois-ture and then perhaps it gets so-big as to make it impossible for the child to breathe. In these cases, the parents may have to travel all night to get to an expert. Tadpole-sized splashers made most of the difference at Crystal Garden Saturday as West Seattle downed rivals from the West bested Victoria in a YMCA dual swimming meet.

With their youngsters dominating events in the 10-and-under age division and holding an advantage in butterfly and relay races, the visitors chalked up a 471-360 win.

Double winners for coach Alf Aylward's Victoria "Y" squad, which showed its usual strength is breastroke events, were Sesar Murphy and Ricky Green, both in the 11-and-12 group.

Bert Willshire helps operate the pipe line connecting Imperial's B.C. refinery at loco with its mainland distribution system.

Through this pipe passes B.C.'s best bargain

Compared with other commodities in everyday use, you won't find a better bargain than Esso gasoline. Average cost per pound of Esso throughout B.C., 618 cents. That's a real bargain... even common table salt costs more per pound than Esso. And of the 678 cents paid per pound for Esso gasoline, two cents is for federal and provincial taxes that help supply such things as new highways and social services. Bringing you this gasoline bargain takes a lot of costly equipment, and a lot of know-how. It takes things like Imperial's product pipe line that goes under the water of Burrard Inlet and then over a mountain to link the company's modern B.C. refinery with new and enlarged marketing terminals. It includes Imperial's search for new oil fields in northern B.C.; drilling for more oil at Boundary Lake; modern marketing facilities. Since 1951 alone, Imperial has invested over $80,000,000 in B.C. to bring you gasoline at bargain prices. The price Imperial receives for Esso gasoline is, on the average, less today than it was ten years ago...yet Esso gasoline today is much more powerful than ten years ago.

STARK CHRONICLE OF EXISTENCE

Notes Tell of Ghetto Life

WARSAW (AP) — A German soldier's battered mess kit dug up at Auschwitz has yielded a stark chronicle of existence in the wartime ghetto at Lodz, Polish experts said.

The kit, found in the ground near a gas chamber of the former concentration camp, contains the story of an untito safe her? That I don't known Jew written in Yiddish on 354 pieces of tightly-rolled bookkeeper's paper. Only 60 were still clearly legible.

The notes, published in the newspaper N o w a Kultura, deal almost exclusively with life in the huge ghetto set up at Lodz by the German occupation authorities. They are signed only with the initials "N. N." and tell the story of a man struggling to survive and of some observations, there

MUZZLING OF OFFICERS APPROVED BY TRUMAN

NEW YORK (AP)-Former president Harry S. Tru-NEW YORK (AP)—Former president Harry S. Truman said today "most military men do not have the competence to interpret foreign policy."

Truman was questioned on his arrival at Pennsylvania Station about the current dispute over censoring of speeches by United States military officers.

"The things they are saying deserve muzzling," Truman said. "You remember I muzzled one and brought him back."

The reference was to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who was relieved of his command in 1951 after differences with Truman over strategy in the Korean War.

"It's a question of interfering with the president's policies," said Truman. "Every president has had that trouble."

I will say, though, the article itself gave me a thought which might have repercussions in B.C.

One of the wacky ways of spending government money described by Mr. McKeown (FEDERAL government money, let it be clear) was the snowballing expenditure on a year-round ferry service between North Sydney, Nova Scotia, and Port Aux Basques, Newfoundland, promised in a 1949 agreement between the federal government and Newfoundland.

This brings to mind the present atmosphere between

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Gail Shaffer, 12, Allentown, Pa., for her question:

Why Is Food Called Stored Sunshine?

Why is Food Called Stored Sunshine?

Last week, Andy answered a question about parasites, those plants and animals that live on their neighbors and give nothing in return. The idea makes us think that we all take things from Mother Nature and give nothing in return. We eat plants and animals, we use water and breathe the air and we give, it seems, little or hothing in return for these things. But this is not true, for indirectly many ways.

Some people like to trot out many ways.

Some people like to trot out the idea that we humans are parasites, living for free of could see and keep ourselves the world of plants. True, the plants provide our oxygen and everything we eat. But they need carbon dioxide to make their food and grow. This is the waste gas we and most animals breathe out and more is added to the air by our fires and factories.

Deams down upon the earth.

Without it all life would freeze to a standstill. Even if we do a standstill. Even if we warm, we would soon perish from lack of food and oxygen.

For plants use the energy from sunlight to make their from sunlight to make their from sunlight to produce our oxygen and every item of our daily more is added to the air by our fires and factories.

Our fires and factories.

Sun's Energy Makes Foods

The energy of sunlight is used to make these foods and when we digest them, this energy is released and used by our bodies. So we can say that our food is stored sunlight, or we can be more poetic and say that we live on bottled sunshine. All the plants and animals, Nature's children. Trade among themselves and depend upon give and the each other. But directly or in directly, every living thing demanders a sunshine, which is spread around for free.

Five-Day Car Show at Memorial Arena This Week

"Stars and Cars" will be the theme of the second annual Auto Show which will be open to the public at Memorial Arena for five full days this week.

Eight member firms of the Victoria Automobile Dealers' Association have banded together to produce the show, which will be open to the public daily from 1-p.m. to midnight Saturday.

Floodlights will be on the cars, but three times daily the spotlights will shine for stage shows, to be presented at 3.15, 7.15 and 10.15 p.m. Admission will be 75 cents.

Headlining the show will be Jerry Murad and the Harmonicats, Joyce Hahn of the Cross Canada

In 1941 they joined Borrah Minnevitch's Har-monica Rascals, then branched off on their own in 1944.

In 1947 they made a record of "Peg O' My Heart," which sold 3,000,000 copies, and fame was theirs. Most recent of their big hits is "Cherry Pink and Apple Blossom White."

Joyce Hahn, vocalist in the show, was featured for five years as a star on Cross Canada Hit Parade, and now is getting international recognition due to appearances on the Dave King television show and the Breakfast Club.

Cadillac also has a new dual braking system. Heart of the system is a dual-type power brake master cylinder with a separate piston and brake fluid reservoir for the two front wheels and for the two rear wheels. From a safety stand-point, this is an ideal system because if one of the hydraulic lines is severed, only one pair of wheel brakes would be out of commission. With the park-ing brake, which again this year can be employed as an auxiliary brake, the 1962 Cadillac has three separate brake systems in an emergency.

AN INVITATION AND OUR THANKS

T. B. LUMSDEN PRESIDENT

May we, here at OLSON'S, add our own invitation to you to attend Victoria's third full-fledged automobile show in 10 years. Nothing has been spared to make the 1962 Automobile Show the most brilliant and enjoyable one you will have ever seen . . . and it has been a pleasure to work in such a fine co-operative spirit with Victoria's other automobile dealers to make this possible. Along with this invitation, I want to extend our sincere thanks to all Victoria for the wonderful reception that has been given Olson's and the FORD LINE OF CARS since the year of our appointment as Victoria's Ford Dealer.

It is genuinely gratifying to have made so many real friends through the years. Thanks to all of you for your appreciation of our honest efforts to always do business on the fairest and highest standards... Thanks for your appreciation of the always greater value to be found in FORD PRODUCTS.

It is more than true that you, the motorist, should "Join the Ford Family of Fine Cars."

CHEWROLEI

brings you a New World of Worth-3 ways?

The Car that's FIRST in SALES...Finest in Features... CHEVROLET

For those who will settle for nothing less than the leader, we proudly present the 1962 Chevrolet. Once again, Chevrolet's outstanding array of values has made it the top-selling car in Canada . . . and no wonder, when you see what these beauties offer! Elegant new styling that does every owner proud! Fine features by the score make paying more seem pointess. Everso-gentle Jet-smoothness makes byways seem like highways. Spacious interiors make everyone more completely comfortable. Yes, Chevrolet leads in sales again because it leads in every other way again. Check Chevrolet's superiority at your Chevrolet dealer's soon.

The Car that's FIRST in Engineering Excellence ...

For people who look for a car that incorporates the newest advances in automotive engineering, the pick of the lot is the new Chevy II - winner of the official Annual Award for Engineering Excellence sponsored by Car Life Magazine. After intensive tests, Car Life's experts found Chevy II to be 1962's outstanding achievement in car engineering . . . and they had added words of praise, too. Things like, "Long-wearing ruggedness .. simple elegance . . . sound and solid . . delightful car to drive . . . up-to-date as the missile age". So ran the comments on the completely new Chevy II. And Chevy II owners are quick to agree. So will you be. Test the car the experts picked - Chevy II.

The Car that's FIRST in Spirit and Sports-car Flair...

For families who appreciate fun, Corvair's the only car that supplies it so readily, so comfortably and so completely, and here's what makes such fun possible. The engine is in the rear - giving outstanding traction, greater handling ease and superior weight distribution. The floor is virtually flat - whether you're eated left, right or centre there's ample oom for your feet. And Corvair also leatures independent suspension on all wheels - so naturally the ride is smoother on any surface. But words won't replace action - so drive this peppy performer down at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Had a look yet at the new Ford power plant? Ford of Canada has created a new 221-cubic inch V-8 ctional engine of rugged cast iron made light in weight through advanced foundry techniques. New materials used in making molds and cores and new methods of casting have resulted in engine blocks more uniform in strength and lighter in weight.

The new engine weighs only 465 pounds. It gives top performance on regular fuel and is rated at 145 horsepower at 4,400 r.p.m.

The standard engine on the Ford is a precision-cast, 170-cubic inch, six-cylinder engine which delivers 101

Close to 150 entrants from countries throughout the world will be competing for points which count toward the annual international raily championship.

Some will be driving sponsored company and dealer s, some club sponsored cars and some lovingly prepared private autos.

Last year there were five Victoria cars in the rally but only two cars are entered so far.

"The rally," rule three of the official handbook reminds, "is to be a contest of skill on the part of the driver and navigator and a test of reliability on the part of the cars.

"It will not be a race; but a point to point timed event with safety being kept in mind at all times."

A typical two days run from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., would be 18 hours to Winnipeg then about four hours rest, depending on when you finish, then 14 more hours

Competitors say the entire run is gauged so that a driver and his relief in top condition can do the rally without becoming overtired to the point of danger.

Relaxing Ride

More passenger room and a more relaxing ride are the two new features of the 1962 Vauxhall Victors.

Five people can be carried in complete comfort due to extended head, hip and shoulder room. The doors also are wider, permitting easier boarding.

Another new feature is a long-life cellulose synthetic enamel finish over several layers of phosphate coating, primer and undercoat.

Introducing Simca '5'-65 horsepowerful, with "Vibration-Tamer" 5-bearing crankshaft

Hidden inside the 1962 Simca '5' are differences so dramatic they'll make you forget all your old ideas about economy cars. This is a solid, beautifully-built, 4-door, 5-passenger, all purpose automobile. Compared to others in its class, it gives you so many extras it's really in a class by itself. For example:

Simca's exclusive new 5-bearing crankshaft tames vibration to give you a whisper-smooth ride, with practically none of the vibration and racket so common in economy cars.

Then there's Simca's new 65horsepowerful engine. That's over 50% more horsepower than other good economy imports. What a difference! Plenty of passing and climbing power. Surging pickup. Yet, despite increased performance, Simca '5' delivers better gas mileage than before!

More great extras: Centrifugal can cost so very little!

oil filter. Oversize brakes. Luxurious new interiors. Extra leg and luggage room. Full instrument panel. And everything except radio and whitewall tires is standard equipment at no extra cost. Full 12-month/12,000 mile warranty, too!

See, feel and hear the differences for yourself at your nearest Simca dealer today. You'll find it hard to believe that so much car

Rambler claims to be the only car that takes a deep bath in rustproofing primer paint "clear to the roof."

Body and frame of Rambler are one integral unit for greatest strength, safety and durability. The unit has more than 10,000 welder.

Rambler also provides double braking protection. Two separate hydraulic systems assure braking action in emergencies.

Self-adjusting brakes are also standard.

A new, high degree of personalized comfort is the claim of Rambler for 1962. Just look at the seats . . . Front-seat passengers are provided a lounge-tilt seat where the cushion is ad-justed as desired by a convenient handle that energizes an hydraulic cylinder.

The Rambler's reclining seats provide a "nap counch" for children, or invalids. They have soft coll spring construction.

The recliners glide back and forth independently to enable driver and front seat passenger to have the right amount of leg room for comfort. The reclining seats

Don't let its good looks fool you. The new Alpine cut its teeth on rugged cross-country travel. It came in first and second in its class in the last two Monte Carlo Rallies. It won the coveted efficiency cup in the 1961 Le Mans Grand Prix (91 m.p.h. average; 18 miles per gallon!). It took first in its class in the 1961 East African Safari. Rough roads? You bet!

With New Features This suave-looking city slicker—with its low road grip, roll-up windows and optional snugfitting hardtop-is in high demand, and short supply. A good reason why you should take a city or country test drive in the new 1962 Alpine now.

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

WEARILY I greet thee—it has been a most discouraging TV week for all of us.

First there was the groping through the dark at 0400 hours Saturday to tune into Walter Cronkite and his CBS crew's excellent coverage of the space shot of Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., that never came off, defeated by the contrary cloud banks hanging over Cape Canaveral.

That couldn't be helped and I realize that I was only one of millions of well-wishers who felt sad over

David Brinkley's shattering of the exquisite dreams of our court as NBC Two "Our Man is Venua" last Wednesday night.

Being strictly a waltzing "Tales From Vienna Woods" man, I turned livid at his repeated reference to "the schmaltzy Strausse music." It was sheer sacrilege, that's what it was!

However, that was only the beginning. I learned that those inhabiting Austria's storied capital were lazy, series.

For Dog Pays Off

A boxer dog, trained to bark hen it sees fire and to stut out cigarette butts, roused a nearby Ladner family early Sunday when their home caught fire.

Said Morley Jamieson: "The dog sure saved our lives because the fire really took hold just after we got out." He and his wife grabbed their three children, Trudy, 10, Charles, three, and Leanne, two, and shouted to a friend, Ernest Preston who was stay-ing in the home, as they rushed ont in their night attire.

Mr. Jamieson said he had no

Upset Dates On Big Report

Health Minister Eric Martin said today a typographical error was responsible for stories that the government had received the Ross Report on mental health a year before it was publicly released. "It was an inadvertant typographical error," he said. The annual report of th mental health service said the government received the Ross Report from the American Psychiatric Association in the spring of 1960.

The report was made public in May, 1961.

Mr. Martin said he was glad that reporters had discovered the mixup in dates, because otherwise the opposition would have "given us a rough time" in the legislature this year for delaying the report.

Actually the Ross Report was received by the government on Jan. 29, 1961, he said.

To Talk Columbia

Premier Bennet today wrote again to federal Finance Minis ter Donald Fleming asking for a meeting on the Columbia River power project.

Mr. Bennett asked Mr. Fleming to come to Victoria anytime before the end of March, when the present B.C. legislative session is expected to close.

"If it is impossible for you to come to B.C.," he added, "if you would provide me with one to meet you in Ottawa at any time after Feb. 15."

They urged the Rhodesian federal commission investigating the crash near Ndola, Norn Rhodesia, to end rumors

Geoffrey Lawrence, repre-senting British government, said the commission "should speak with an authoritative voice to put an end to these wicked and baseless allega tions" made since the crash last Sept. 18.

He said the inquiry has shown there is no possibility the crash was caused by a bomb aboard the aircraft, by fighter or ground attack. The most probable theory is that the plane's pilot failed to maintain a proper approach altitain a proper approach attitude.

R. A. Adams, representing Sweden, said the whole truth of the disaster probably never will be known because in air crashes much of the evidence destroyed.

Adams said the pilot should not be blamed for the crash just because no other cause could be pinpointed, and said the only way speculation and rumor about the crash can be stilled once and for all is for the commission to still it. dssion resume

'ROYAL' HELP

An emergency has changed the routine of Canada's Dairy Princess, Clara Taylor, 2973 McIntyre Road in Saanich. She has temporarily dropped her job looking after dairy calves to become a foster mother for a lambkin. Newly-born lamb, Betsie lost her mother last week and Clara took over. Lamb has become attached to adopted mother and everywhere Clara wants to go, Betsie is sure to follow. (Times photo.)

MONTE ROBERTS

Let there be no misunderstanding about the feature article which occupied pages two and three of WEEKEND magazine, that estimable publication which comes each week as a reading bonus in Our Very Own Favorite News-

The article to which I refer was written by Weekend staffer Robert McKeown, and, as yet, I have not had the opportunity of conferring with Mr. McKeown or the sub-editor who provided the title for said article.

But I am quite sure I speak for all concerned when I say, this has nothing whatsoever to do with the present political situation in British Columbia, and has no reflection on, or intent to reflect on, any person etc., etc., and so don't the title of the article?

WACKY WAYS OF WASTING GOVERNMENT

I will say, though, the article itself gave me a thought ich might have repercussions in B.C.

One of the wacky ways of spending government money described by Mr. McKeown (FEDERAL government money, let it be clear) was the snowballing expenditure on a year-round ferry service between North Sydney, Nova Scotia, and Part Aux Rassurg Naurfamedian promised by a 1987 and Port Aux Basques, Newfoundland, promised in a 194 agreement between the federal government and New

This brings to mind the present atmosphere between government of Canada and the government of British

I may be wrong, but there seems to be a distinct ambition on the part of the G. of C. to do the G. of B.C. one in the eye. And possibly vice versa, goodwill toward men and all

So here's a thought for the government of Canada: One of the reasons Vancouver Island allowed itself to be lured into confederation was that the Island would be the westernmost terminus of a trans-continental railroad.

And as part of the deal (you can ask Claude Harrison), a bridge would be built, linking the Island and the B.C.

Well, now, what better way for the Government of Canada to go one up on the Government of B.C. than to build this bridge?

Six lanes for cars, double-decked with two lanes for Toll-free, of course.

And THAT would show the Wacky government of B.C. a thing or two about going into the ferry business so incautiously.

Safe, $2,000 Stolen

Into Light Pole Four persons were sent to hospital early Sunday morning when the car in which they were travelling was forced off the road into a power pole by a car speeding in the opposite direction.

The robbery took place at about 5.30 a.m. While tenants in apartments above the store slept, the thieves took the casing off a back door, smashed out two bars and holts.

Preston Bruce, proprietor of the store, said he found it, hard to believe the safe had/been removed.

In good condition in Royal Jubitee Hospital today with back injuries is Ronald Curran, 25, of 1045 Rockland, who police said was the driver of the "victim" car heading west on Esquimalt Road.

HIGH-TONED CREATIONS

City police said the Curran vehicle was forced off the road near Tyee Road by a car heading east at a high rate of speed on the wrong side of the road. The unidentified car didn't stop.

The loss was covered by insurance.
Police suggested the safe must have been tumbled to the back door, where the sill is just the right height for loading.

Fire Lesson For Dog Pays Off

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)

—A boxer dog, trained to bark when it sees fire and to stub out eigarette butts, roused a nearby Ladner family early Sunday when their home caught fire.

Said Morley Jamieson: "The dog sure saved our lives because the fire really took hold just after we got out."

He and his wife grabbed their three children, Trudy, 16, Charles, three, and Leanne, two, and shouled to a friend.
